Use Coast Line Depot at Lake Harbor After Build-

Offices of the Wells and Royal Wholesale company and the Wells-Royal Lumber company are temporarily set up in the Atlantic Coast Line depot at Lake Harbor following a blaze that consumed the buildings and contents of both concerns Tuesday night. The building of the Lake Harbor Supply company was also burned in the same conflagration, origin of

The fire which was discovered by Brigadier Perkins died an ordinary death, and was not the largest and most destructive fire in Everglades history, it was stated. The Wells and Royal Wholesale company and the Wells-Royal Hardware store lost about $100,000, about 60 per cent covered by insurance according to a statement made yesterday morning by G. L. Wells. The insurance was written by Mrs. Ora Pearl Wells. Everglades Insurance Agency and an adjuster is expected to visit the scene of the fire within a day or two.

L. E. Will of the Belle Glade fire department made a record run from Belle Glade to the scene of the fire as did the engines from the Belle Glade fire departments. The Belle Glade and Clewiston engines remained on the job all night and helped materially in bringing the fire under control. The Belle Glade engine returned to its station before morning. Mr. Royal desires to pubdelicly thank each of the three departments for the efficient service rendered at the fire, and also wishes to thank the volunteers.

Mr. Royal stated that at the time of the fire his concerns were carrying the largest stocks ever and that supplies were centered at the Lake Harbor warehouse to serve all eight stores of the concern operated in different towns around the lake. A large lumber was also on hand.

The major portion of the piles in the Lake Harbor S. & C. company building were saved from the flames. All seed was carried out and the only loss of stock was insecticide and some harness.

The Wells and Royal concerns are getting in daily shipments of merchandise and lumber and Mr. Royal states that business will go on uninterrupted.

WORLD CHAMP TO APPEAR IN WEST PALM BEACH, JAN. 23

Max Baer, champion of champions, is scheduled for an appearance Wednesday night at the Dixie Highway Arena, West Palm Beach. The clowning king of fis-

That Baer will unleash the punch that won the world's heavyweight championship is very likely. There is an intense rivalry between boxing and wrestling men in the first place. The character of Had Davis has arranged for the appearance of two of the most notorious villains of the mat world in GasHous Al Maynard and the bearded wild man, Bob Savage. Neither of these unruly scrappers care a snap of the finger about the rules or code of ethics of wrestling; and it is almost a certainty that one or both may be the recipients of the champion's chastisement before the evening is over.

Other matches refereed by Baer will be between Tom Malloy, 295 pound Irishman, and Dr. Archie Rauta, Stanford University flying tackle exponent, and one between Jose Dominguez, 225, Spanish champion, and the Chicago policeman, Joe Cook, 222. The last named matches will be for thirty minutes each, while the Savage-Stahl bout will be for a forty-five min-

LAST TWO OF SIX HOUSES GOING UP

The last two of six houses being built by the Pahokee Lumber company on the Canal Point-Pahokee road are going up this week. A few weeks ago the first one was started and up to this time four are practically complete. A few more days will bring the completion of the last two of the group to be built for rental. The houses, though small, are large enough to accommodate a small family, since they have the same small they have three rooms and bath.

Contractors who are constructing Pahokee's new $100,000 water works system have lost no time in their work. Weather conditions have been in their favor and the work is progressing nicely. It is a matter of only days now until Pahokee will have the benefit of a new and modern water system—the first in the Everglades.

Horse and dog tracks in Florida are breaking all previous records as revenue producers. The state racing commission predicts that this year's receipts from the race tracks will go well over a million dollars. Each of the 67 counties in the state will share evenly in this money and it is expected to top the $12,000 that each county received last year.

Splendid entertainment is promised the gentlemen of the press who attend the press breakfast in connection with the Orange festival in Winter Haven a week from this morning. From the entering letters sent out by the special press entertainment committee it will be a hard matter for a hard working newspaper man to stay away. The letter even states that "you'll miss a lot of fun by going to bed."

How would you like to be handed a check for $1815 for 202 hampers of Gladys beans? Do you think you could stand the shock? That experience was the pleasure of Jack Pope, of Canal Point, this week, when he was paid $9.00 per hamper for Bountifuls. Last week he received the highest price paid in many a year when he was paid $9.25 for 133 hampers of the same variety, or an average of $25.25 per hamper. For four years Mr. Pope has farmed the same plot of ground around his home. "I came to the top of the crop at the proper time," he says.

AROUND THE LAKE

The new board of Okeechobee county commissioners organized Tuesday by electing R. M. Durrance chairman and T. W. Conely, Jr., county attorney. Only routine business followed its organization.

David G. Alston, of Clewiston, was elected chairman of the board of Hendry county commissioners at the first meeting of the new board held at the court house in Lakeland Tuesday. Mr. Alston was a member of the board for the two year term just expiring, and previous to that served as a member of the board of public instruction.

Morgan D. Moon was elected chairman of the board of county commissioners of Glades county in the first meeting of the year. W.
G. Smith, W. E. Daniel, T. H. Snel and Otto Whidden are the other members.

All officers of the First Bank of Clewiston were re-elected for another year at the annual meeting of the stockholders. C. V. Parkinson, president, J. S. Cottrill, vice president and E. L. Stewart, cashier, are the active officials.

The E. H. Latham Company, contractors on the hurricane gates and locks in Moore Haven, on Wednesday began driving steel sheet piling for the first coffer dam which the first gate will be built.

A new ordinance setting the city license for retail and for wholesale beer dealers in the city limits of Clewiston at $250 yearly was introduced and passed for the first time upon full resolution at the regular meeting Monday evening.

The re-organization of the Moore Haven Boy Scout troop No. 16 was made Tuesday night at the Women's club room with twenty-one old and new members signed up.
The meeting was attended by a large number of business men.

W. A. Hadley, assistant division engineer of the state highway department was in Moore Haven recently and brought with him from Lakeland plans and specifications for the construction of the extension to the steel truss bridge across Three-Mile Canal on highway 67. According to Jimmy Herring, bridge engineer for the department here, construction is sched-

Aradac Aradac: A few years ago somebody figured it out that one in every eleven of the people of the United States was on the public payroll, and now with the PERA and the other alphabetical institutions dishing out the public money it is said that one in every five in the nation is eating out of the public trough.

By the time the Townsend bill is passed and in working order it will be one out of every three, and then with a mighty heave we can probably all land on the payroll and our trouble will all be over.
Maybe. Perhaps. But not at all probable.

No theory is quite so absurd as that the public treasury has no bottom. If there is anything so foolish as to think that this nation's resources are inexhaustible he should be taken in charge before the squirrels eat him.

Winter Park Herald: This country is the richest nation in the world. The difficulty is that the bulk of the wealth of the country is in the hands of a few people.
When the bulk of the money gets into the hands of a few, business is poor because the wants of these few are limited. When the bulk of the money gets into the hands of many, business is good because their wants are many.

Sanford Herald: Banks have been in pretty sad disrepute during the past two or three years after 11,000 of them had failed within ten years, tying up depositors funds. But for every bank that failed two remained open. Today business in this country today are 168 banks which have survived all the hard times and political crises of more than 100 years. There are 2,474 banks which have been in continuous operation for 50 years or more, and 10,391 which were established 25 years or more ago.

Fort Pierce News-Tribune: The gasoline tax, which has been a popular source of public revenue during the depression, providing for welfare and school needs as well as road-building, is on the way to ward stabilization and a new place in the tax structure.

First adopted in 1919 by the state of Oregon, the tax was a one-cent levy. Within ten years forty-eight states had adopted it, and the tax rate went up to three, four, six and seven cents a gallon.
Opposition to heavier levies began to take concrete form in 1932, the history of the tax shows. During the last two years temporary rate increases were extended but all further increases were defeated by state legislatures.

This shows beyond a doubt that the legislators are coming to the conclusion that gasoline, as the motor vehicle can bear no further burden and that decreases must be made in the tax.

DeRay Beach News: Persons who own homesteads and wish to claim tax exemption must make their returns to the county tax assessor early in 1935. Blankets for this purpose will be available soon.
These must be filed with James M.
Dwens, Jr., Palm Beach county tax assessor before he makes up the 1935 tax roll, for exemption from state and county taxes. Similar returns will probably have to be filed with the City of DeRay Beach.

Tax assessments in Florida are made as of the first of January but the assessor does not usually complete the roll for two months or more after that date. Nevertheless those wishing to have their homes exempted should not waste any time. As soon as blanks are available, they should fill them out and return them to Mr. Dwens.
The responsibility for getting the exemption rests entirely on the home-owner. If proper returns are not made, the tax assessor has the legal right to make his assessment the same as on other property.
He has no way of knowing what property a person may claim as a homestead unless the person makes the proper return.

Miami Daily News: When the parson board rejected more than a thousand pleas and granted conditional pardons or paroles to only 125 at its recent semi-annual meeting, the state press reflected general praise for a less lenient attitude toward criminals. Now it appears that at least one habitual obtaining a parole that was to have been effective last Sunday.

This was revoked at the last min-

Sentenced to five years for robbery in Texas, he was discharged in 1931 after two attempted escapes; was arrested in Texas in 1932 in connection with highway robbery and again in 1933, but not convicted, then pleaded guilty to grand larceny in Jacksonville this year and paroled after serving eight months of an 18-month sen-parole board apparently has not yet given close enough scrutiny to the records of applicants.

Kissimmee Gazette: Roger W.
Babson, noted business statistician, points out that newspaper advertising for fourteen consecutive months has registered gains over the same month of the previous year and says this means that manufacturers and merchants alike are looking forward to bet-

Mr. Babson calls attention, how-of reducing their advertising appropriations in slumps. He urges them to increase their advertising in order to take advantage of one of the most valuable methods of ironing out the bumps in business.

NEW DODGES ON DISPLAY AT BELLE GLADE STATION

The new Dodges for 1935 are now on display at the Pioneer Service Station in Belle Glade and are attracting wide attention, according to L. E. Wyl, proprietor of the station and Dodge dealer in the Lake Okechobee region. The new Dodges are proving one of the outstanding attractions in the automotive world this season and already people of this region are thoroughly convinced of the ruggedness and value built into the new cars.

It is quite evident that the company's engineers have applied considerable time, effort and ingenuity to the task of combining sturdiness in comfortable bodies with operating features that do not automatically, a variety of things which formerly had to be done manually.

To provide the interior comfort Dodge engineers have done two fundamental things: They designed a new chassis frame with great strength and to carry the body or frame and the improved method by which the bodies are mounted to the frame. The greatest change has been in the method of mounting system have made it possible to widen the front and rear seats and to carry the body seats and doors down to the running board. Although seats are as chair-height, they are so constructed that the interior retains general roominess.

One of the mechanical advances seen for the first time this year is the Dodge "asynchronous" front suspension system which is attracting much attention. The suspension incorporates a rigid front axle, flexible rear axle, double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, a rubber-cushioned synchronizing "levelator"—the new Dodge ride "revolver."

The effectiveness of the suspension according to Dodge engineers, is further assured by a new, equalized distribution of the car's spring-supported weight to all four wheels, a process in which the power plant is placed 8 inches farther forward than the sedan rear seats, formerly above the rear axle, are moved forward 6 inches so that all the weight now ride cradled between the axles.

IN LIEU OF GOLF

of Caesar being turned back to mud.
"I sometimes think that never blows so red The Rose as where some buried Caesar bled;
That every Wyching the Garden wears Dropt in her Lap from some once lovely head."

Let's give the poets a rest and quote some more from the chapter on The Origin of Soil: "The people who have lived before raised floods and herds. Also, hundreds of kinds of wild animals have lived, reproduced their kind in numbers; all have returned to earth except those now remaining. . . . It is seen, therefore, that soil is not only the physical source of all life, but also a result of the life it nurtured. Soil and life itself are in a way synonymous." This doesn't take sufficient count of air and water, but we won't argue about it. And now back to Omar:

The bodies of fair maidens as well as the bodies of Caesars have gone into the earth to make and enrich the soil, Omar says:

"And this revolving Herd whose wheels have gone into the earth to make and enrich the soil, Omar says:

From what once lovely lip it springs uncessant!"

When a bean grower plants beans he thinks, I suppose, about what price he is going to sell the crop for: these flowers I tend, I do not sell them, they have no prices; as I do not have to think about the price, I think about other things.

I think, as others have thought, of the past and of the future—of what was and of what may be, of the Everglades as it was and as it may be, of parents' hopes and plans for their children, of old men's and old women's anxieties, of young people's ambitions. And it is this day and every line of thought amounts to this, that life is a ceaseless building up and tearing down, and the only thing I wonder about is whether a good man's blood and bone makes any better fertilizer than a bad man's.
